WHAT IS ANXIETY?
Anxiety is a feeling of unease, such as worry or fear, that can be mild or severe.

It’s normal to feel worried and anxious about sitting an exam, or having a job interview. However, some people find it hard to control their worries. Their feelings of anxiety affect them all the time in their daily lives.
People with anxiety may feel worried or uneasy most days and often struggle to remember the last time they felt relaxed. As soon as one anxious thought is resolved, another may appear about a different issue.
Anxiety can cause both mental and physical symptoms including:

- feeling restless or worried
- having trouble concentrating or sleeping
- dizziness
- rapid heartbeat
What causes anxiety?

It’s not always easy to know why people become anxious as it can be a combination of things, including:

- A chemical imbalance in the brain which affects moods;
- The genes you inherit from your parents;
- Stressful or traumatic experiences such as domestic violence, child abuse or bullying;
- Having a painful long-term health condition, such as arthritis;
- Drug or alcohol misuse.

However, many people develop anxiety for no apparent reason.
Treating anxiety

Anxiety can have a significant effect on your daily life, but several different treatments are available that can ease your symptoms. These include:

PSYCHOLOGICAL THERAPY
- such as Cognitive Behavioural Therapy

MEDICATION
- such as antidepressants
There are also many things you can do yourself to help reduce your anxiety, such as:

- Going on a self-help course
- Exercising regularly
- Stopping smoking
- Cutting down alcohol / caffeine

Some GPs in Bristol offer social prescribing for anxiety, which involves access to art, exercise, cooking and other health-related programmes at a location near you.
